again won the verdict yesterday, 6 to 4, on he Huntington avenue grounds, and again he Bostons were compelled to acknowledge the superiority of the other chaps, thus plunging still further in the eighth hole. he sprightliness of these Washington chaps. They are out for the stuff, as the saying goes, and playing for all they are worth at every stage of the game. There a breeziness and a dash about their sort of spirit wins games every time. The Washingtons are now in the first division, and, playing the kind of game they have two days running, there is no reason why they should not remain there.

Not that the locals are not fighting well, Things have not come their way the past two days, and they have just missed get-Kitson was selected by Manager Stahl to lead his forces to victory, and the old-timer did his work very well. Boston did not find him very often, and he had splendid command bestowing but one did durdid command, bestowing but one gift dur-ing the afternoon, and he maintained that the umpire was responsible for this piece of liberality. Boston found him for two hits in the second inning, and again for bhree in succession in the eighth inning after two hands were out. For the locals Winter started in, and he said after the game that he never had more to work

The visitors connected with him so freely however, that Manager Collins substituted Harris in the sixth inning, and the move proved a good one, as not a run was made off him. In his first inning, the sixth, ington had three on bases and one out, but falled to score, and after that ten men went out in succession, the last man at bat, Cross, making a single in the final inning and being thrown out in a try to Cross Played Well.

The veteran Lave Cross performed prodigies of base ball valor and did a lot to give grounds thus far this season. Again in the seventh inning, with a man on second, he saved another run by blocking Graham's second not drive, so that Nill was able to recover the ball in time to get his man. This sort of work was perfectly heartrending from a local standpoint. Schalfly also did grand work, and got in the way of a ball friven by Parent that made the crowd stare. Jones, Anderson and Hickman fielded in good style, and Stahl's work at first was brilliant in the extreme. Little Nill, who before, was not so successful, and the last three times at bat he went out on strikes. was there with the wallop, howand he gave about as nice an exhibition of hitting as has been seen this year, each of his drives being of the pettlest nateach of his drives being of the shots to the ure imaginable, spinning like shots to the they hoisted them so far off their pedestals outfield. He was victimized by Harris on that the fans were given a real, genuing Lave Cross also helped land the game with Parent fielded in old-time style, but made an inexfielded in old-time style, but made an inexpecting streak of the Baptists, but fact, as one of the Foundry players expressed it, that they were "being fought to a finish." And the better the followers of fielded in old-time style, but made an inex-cusable muff. Boston managed to bunch its bad plays in the third inning; three mis-plays and one hit gave the Washingtons three runs and the lead. In the fifth they hit the ball out and secured an advantage that was not overcome. Schalfly was the only one to get to first in the opening in-only one to get to first in the opening inning, banging to right for a single and stealing second only to be left. In the second Anderson singled and made second on Jones' out. Heydon was hit, and a passed ball advanced the runners, and they were left on Kitson's out. Boston then scored on Parent's single, Freeman's sacrifice and

Nationals Got Started.

The Nationals got these runs back in the Ferris missed Nill's grounder and Schalfly walked. Hickman did the sacrifice act in good style. Stahl muffed Cross' fly after a hard run. Nill scoring and was left. Boston made a run in the fourth on Stahl's drive through Nill, two out and Nill's slow throw off Grimshaw. With the score 3 to 2 in favor of the visitors, they went at Winter in the fifth and batted in three runs Schalify bunted safely, Cross singled and Anderson's double scored Schalfly. Team Standing.

Fifth Baptist Beat Foundry. Surprise No. 1 of the 1906 season of the Church League was sprung on that fearome, carefully selected bunch of ex-Fourth Presbyterlan and ex-M. P. C. talent. The winners in Section B last year, the Fifth Baptist team, simply swept the all-star combination off its feet-in fact they hoisted them so far off their pedestals aeronautic exhibition. Those wise ones who knew what the individual players of who knew what the individual players of is stick.

Wouldn't it be funny indeed if Washington, with Lave, would land over the chambions this year? And funnier things than for the control of the control

Despite Capt. King's pleas and exhortations to his amazed embryonic Schafly's, Lajoles, Bradleys et al., the tide of battle did not change, and ere the big balloon came to earth the former Section B stars had played the pick of Section A to a standstill.

With Scheckells, who twirled such an ex-cellent game against Calvary on the open-ing day, as well as the former Gunton star, Hutchinson, on the bench, Capt. Charles elected to try out one Keiffer, who came heralded as a three-time winner that had never been invited to occupy the center of

A little over one inning got Kieffer the "23" sign, and Scheckells took up the cause. "Scheck" punched the next man up and the Foundry's adherents took a hammerlock on hope and cheered lustily. But Johnny could not do it all. Capt. King Schalfly reaching third. Anderson singled, would get the steering gear of the airarent muffing Graham's throw, and | ing doing for the Foundryites but an igno-Boston made a run in the fourth | minious defeat. minious defeat.

Scheckells had seven and Kleffer two, but Hester, with only one, won his game.
Scheckells pitched an excellent game equally as good as Hester, but Foundry's errors were not only most inopportune but very costly-Warman's in the final inning especially, when two bad throws netted came terrestrial inhabitants long enough to tle up the score, but in the following round they threw off all ballast and went into the clouds. In this inning singles by McKenney and Woodward, Sheckell's long fly out to right and a pair of wild pitches by Hester chased two men over the rubber. Then came the nightmare in the fifth Evans singled to right. Easy chances by Derrick and Hester were turned into field-Derrick and Hester were turned into fielders' choices by Warman's erratic and ineffective attempts to head off runners at the plate and second. These, on top of Vaughn's error, netted three runs. Hurley fanned. J. Ellett was safe on Atchison's wild heave over first, scoring Wood, who had also reached first by the "choice" route. With only one out and darkness coming on, Ellett allowed himself to die at second and McKnight struck out gracefully. Foundry made a despairing and game effort to tie up the game and win it, but the Baptists were on their toes and King was the only man over the rubber, on a choice, Acker's error and Woodward's third hit of the game.

Woodward contributed the sticking features of the game, but his work behind the bat was in marked contrast to his fine work Monday. Hurley, who made such a beautiful running catch into the crowd Tuesday, duplicated this stunt yesterday, and McKnight continued his fast work at short. The former St. Stephen's pitcher also led in base stealing, pilfering second and third in the fourth.

JAY GOULD

VICTOR IN ENGLAND

LONDON, May 4 .- Jay Gould yesterday had his hardest match so far in the English amateur court tennis championship tournament at the Queen's Club, when in the semifinal round he defeated Major Cooper Key by three sets to love, eighteen games to ten, and 99 strokes to 84.

Mr. Gould has had to play better in each of his three matches than in any of the preceding ones, but each time he has risen to the occasion without extending himself much more than was absolutely necessary

Although it was conceded by those who witnessed yesterday's match that the American is the most marvelous player seen here for years, the general impression is that he Major Cooper Key is just now playing a very strong game, but he seemed to be a little disheartened at losing the first set, in view of the fact that he won the first three games and was leading five games to three. Mr. Gould drew level at three games all, and then took the lead, but not until after deuce had been called seven times. The score was 6-5, 6-1, 6-4.

In the other match H. J. Hill beat J. F.

BIG BOXERS IN

SLUGGING MATCH

NEW YORK, May 4.- In the arena of the Twentieth Century Athletic Club, which made its re-entry into the pugilistic game in the concert hall of Madison Square Garden last night, Marvin Hart and Mike Schreck met in a four-round slugging match and fought each other to a standstill. Two longshoremen could have made just as in-

Both men were fat, but willing, and they fought hard and fast from the moment they shook hands in the opening round until the bell signaled the end of the contest at the close of the fourth round. Both are lumbering, awkward fighters, and the exhibition they made was a long way from being consistent with the puglistic reputations which preceded them

Scientific boxing is an unknown art to both Hart and Schreck. They are sluggers, pure and simple. Hart's most effective blow is a swinging right-if it lands. It went wide of the mark many times last night when attempting to connect with Schreck's jaw. It also lacks force.

Schreck's best blow is a left-hand swing. It has power behind it. Twice it made Hart stagger. In spite of their unscientific work the rival fighters pleased the crowd by their earnest work. Both men were so thoroughly exhausted by their efforts that they could hardly stand, and a bantam-weight could have knocked out either when the fourth round ended.

SMATHERS CLEARED BY TROTTING BOARD

NEW YORK, May 4.-Memphis Trotting Association, by Murray Howe, secretary, against E. E. Smathers of New York: application for an order. Case dismissed without prejudice.

The above indicates that the great trotting turf scandal in connection with the race for the gold cup at Memphis has ended in smoke. But there is a spark left. Secretary Howe is burning with indignation and refuses to be quenched.

The board of review of the National Trotting Association did meet yesterday and dismissed the case against Smathers, but Howe and the Memphis people were not present. They arrived an hour after it was all over, and declared the meeting had been held before the appointed time and that the proceeding was an outrage. Incidentally, they said they were not through with the case and referred to the action pend-ing in the supreme court.

Nothing but the Lou Dillon-Major Delmar scandal occupied the docket at the meeting. Smathers, with his lawyers, was on hand. John J. Adams read two affidavits, one from Smathers himself, denying that he had done anything wrong in connection with the race won by him with Major Delmar.

Convincing Statement. The other statement was by Orlando D. Hammond, an attorney living in this city, who was present at the Memphis track and stated that after C. K. G. Billings had alighted from the wagon behind Lou Dillon he heard him say his mare had been "off" for several days before the race, which explained her defeat. Before closing its May term the board ordered a special investigation into the affair, which will be held in June. The order was as follows:

"It having come to the knowledge of this board that it is charged by certain parties that on the eighteenth day of October, 1904. during the race between Lou Dillon and Major Delmar, the mare Lou Dillon was tampered with by being drugged and dis-abled and fraudulently interfered with, and thereby the said Lou Dillon lost the said race to Major Delmar, and that the same is alleged to have occurred on the grounds of the Memphis Trotting Association on the said October 18, 1904, and the said Memphis Trotting Association being on the said day a member of the National Trotting Asso-

and charges may have the fullest investiga-tion and the true facts be ascertained in connection therewith and justice be meted out to all parties concerned therein, the secretary of the National Trotting Associa-tion is ordered and directed to secure and present all evidence and witnesses in connection therewith to this board at an adjourned meeting, to be held at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, Ky., on June 1, 1906, at Lawyer Barred.

The same members who were present here this week will attend the special session of the board. Major P. P. Johnston of Lexington, as president of the N. T. A., is the chairman, and the others, as chairmen of their several districts, are: Eastern district, Charles Dana Palmer, Lowell, Mass.; 'Atlantic district, H. N. Bain, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; central district, William Russell Allen, St. Louis, Mo.; western district, John C. Wetty, Canton, Ohio. "We will meet at Lexington as a sort of inquisition or grand jury," said President Johnson, "for the purpose of finding out what there is in the charges brought against Mr. Smathers. There will be no invitation for the counsel who appeared here to be present, and if they come we may decline to hear them.

"But, so far as we can, we will compel everybody who can testify as to the merits of this case to be on hand.

"Mr. Howe, as the original complainant, will be cited to appear, along with Mr. Billings, Mr. Smathers and any other horsemen who can throw any light on this af-

TURF AND TRACK NOTES.

Jockey Walter Miller, with two winning nounts in Colossal and Consuelo II bounced into the lead on the list of winning riders at Jamaica yesterday, the day's score giving him a total of seven whners, against six each for Radtke and Garner. J. G. Follansbee, who was appointed a steward to act at the Jamaica meeting of the Jockey Club, but who was detained in California by business affairs which the California by business affairs which the recent earthquake and fire made imperative, will arrive in New York in time to serve through the closing days of the Jamaica racing. Mr. Follansbee yesterday left Calhuahua, Mexico, on his way east, and will arrive about Monday morning.

A meeting of the stewards of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association was held yesterday morning at the rooms of the association in the Windsor Arcade, New York. The chief business was the consideration of applications for trainers and jockeys' licenses. The claims of a number of members of hunt clubs for registration as amateur riders, qualified to ride at the hunt meetings and in amateur races on the Jockey Club tracks, were considered, and several newcomers received licenses. Pronta, in her first appearance on a New York track after a winter campaign in Cali-fornia, ran away in her warming-up gallop before the second race at Jamaica yester-day, and went about a mile and a quarter before she was pulled up. She ran well for a distance in the race, but was beaten after going hardly a quarter of a mile. C. T. Henshall, her owner, later was in the stewards' stand, as the latter wished to krow what orders he gave T. Clark know what orders he gave T. Clark, Pronta's rider, after the runaway. Mr. Henshall stated that he simply told Clark to do the best he could under the circum-

Only two horses that are estimated among the probable starters for the Metropolitan the probable starters for the Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park on May 10 have incurred penalties so far. They are Roseben for winning the Carter Handicap and Sterling Stakes, 8 pounds, making his weight, originally 121 pounds, 129 pounds, and First Premium, for winning the Dunton Stakes, 4 pounds, making his weight, originally 93 pounds, 97. Ram's Horn also has earned a penalty of 4 pounds, but as he is still sick from the cold he caught on the trip to New York it is about settled that he will not start. te will not start. Vanguard, owned by J. L. Hayman, and a starter in the race for the Columbus stakes at Jamalca, was a victim of a peculiar accident yesterday. The horse, when out in the lead, went too close to the rall on the first turn and struck his hip against one of first turn and struck his hip against one of the posts, at the same time scraping the leg of his rider, Radtke, against the rail. Vanguard promptly dropped out of the run-ning, and with his left hind leg drawn up and not touching the ground galloped near-ly a quarter of a mile before he was pulled up. It was thought that he had snapped off the leg, but later it was found that he had dislocated his stifle. The dislocation was reduced, and it is thought that the colt can be saved for racing. Radtke was only slightly bruised, though he returned to the slightly bruised, though he returned to stand limping.

Speedway Club Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of the Speedway Club, an organization composed of business men of this city, was held last evening in the parlors of Mr. William J. Mullin, 400 9th street northwest, and proved to be one of the most interesting held by that jovial organization. After the routine business of the evening had passed, the committee in charge of the annual outing announced that it was decided that it should be held the 13th of May and that Ray's farm, on the Bethesda road, would be the place. After an hour of merrymaking Mr. Mullin invited his brother members into the dining room, where the customary Among those present were Mr. P. J Foley, Mr. H. J. Allen, Mr. Frank B Clarkson, Mr. F. B. Scheggart, Mr. Wil-liam J. Mullin, Mr. John M. Becker, Mr. Patrick Breslyn, Mr. I. M. Wright, Mr. Charles H. CRISIS IN ZION CITY.

War of Extermination Talked-Mrs. Dowie Hurt.

A dispatch from Chicago last night says: Shotgun government threatens to succeed a theocratic rule at Zion City. The hungry, lesperate followers of the rival "prophets," war" of extermination is threatened. Gov. Deneen is mentioned as a prospec ive arbitrator acceptable to Dowle at least. Voliva is not willing to meet such a move, t is said, and is losing much of his support in consequence. Whitecap bands have been formed. Dowle's followers in Zion City, it was declared, have ordered supplies of firearms and munitions of war and intend to hold Shiloh Tabernacle even at the cost of uman life.

. Mrs. Jane Dowie appeared today on the streets of Zion City and displayed black and blue bruises on her arms, declaring that she had been attacked by Dowie's negro attendant as she was about to visit the room of her husband. According to Mrs. Dowle's story she was scarcely conscious, when she was dragged along the hall and thrust into her rooms, where she remained in a hysterical condition until morning. Mrs. Dowie will be given quarters at the Elijah Hospital temporarily, it was said.

Effort to Down Senator Dryden. Corporation Counsel Record of Jersey City, the most conspicuous member of the Colby-Fagan reform faction in New Jersey, was nominated for United States senator last night at a dollar dinner given at Columbia Hall in Ocean avenue, Jersey City, by Mayor Fagan's republican city committee. The nominating speech was made by Mayor Fagan and his declaration that Record was the only man who could successfully put United States Senator John F. Dryden out of business was received with wild cheering. Organization republicans throughout the state have guessed for a long time that the corporation counsel was ambitious to serve his country in the United States Senate and they have been anxiously waiting for the official announcement of his plans. They will now bend their energies in waging a vigorous fight against the Fagan-Colbyites and the reformers will continue their bitter warfare with the hope of ultimately putting the organization down and out in all the counties in the state. The prospects of hot times in Jersey politics were never brighter. Hall in Ocean avenue, Jersey City, by BANKER SPENCER STRICKEN. St. Louis Man Collapsed While Watching the Ticker.

Stricken while he watched the still falling prices of stocks in a broker's office. Corwin H. Spencer, multi-millionaire, great grain operator, vice president of the St. Louis World's Fair, died three hours later in the Planters' Hotel in St. Louis yesterday. The circumstances of his death were so puzzling at first that an official investigation

Mr. Spencer had lost heavily in the recent slump in the stock market. He was known to be carrying big lines of Louisville and Nashville, Great Northern and Northern Pacific shares, and the decimes showed a shrinkage in his holdings that could not be less than several hundred thousand dollars. For several days he had kept his eye on the "ticker" with feverish interest.
